Service Statement

Filipa Calado

October 2026

This service statement covers my service work at the Pratt Institute, School of Information (SI), at Pratt Institute broadly, and my external service.

Pratt SI

Since beginning my position at Pratt School of Information (SI), I have been involved in faculty committees and taskforces, student groups, and in the faculty union. I have also been a faculty advisor to ~30 students per semester, and ran workshops for the Digital Storytelling Lab in AY 2025-2026 and 2026-2027.

At Pratt SI, I have worked on curriculum development, including the DH Certificate Review, which went through multiple rounds of revision over the last academic year, on the Ethics and Technology Forum Committee, the MS Critical and Creative Computing Task Force, and the DEI Committee. Additionally, I have served on two faculty searches, the Pratt Faculty Council, and the Peer Review Committee.

I have also served as a Faculty Advisor to two student groups, Latines in Tech, and the Stacks Student Journal (see my enclosed Teaching Statement for more information on my role in these groups). Additionally, I have spoken at an event, Digital Spring Clean Up Day, organized by student the groups PALA, PEMP, SAA, and Patients and Pixels.

Pratt Institute

Beyond SI, I have also been involved in the Pratt Faculty Union, UFCT 1460. Primarily, I work as a member of the Data Team, helping the union to process and migrate union data to a new system. A full list of my tasks and roles for the union includes the following:

- Member of the Data Team (2026-2027)
- Union delegate for School of Information (2025-2027)
- Participant in the Summer 2026 membership drive (2025-2026)
- Participant in "Organizing For Power" training series (2025-2026)

External

In addition to my work at Pratt, I also serve as a reviewer for two publications: Social Text, published by Duke University Press, and the Workshop on Gender Bias in Natural Language Processing (GeBNLP), held annually at different conference venues. My goal with these service obligations is to develop and maintain my committment to Humanities and Computer Science scholarly communities.

Known for its radical and activist leaning, Social Text is a leading peer-reviewed journal in cultural studies, one that has published consistently provocative work on gender, sexuality, race, colonialism, environmental issues, and popular culture for nearly 50 years. I have been a member of the journal's editorial board for three years, regularly attenting their quarterly meetings and reviewing submissions several times per year.

GeBNLP is an annual workshop that takes place every year for the past 6 years. At last year's conference, held at the Association for Computational Linguistics (ACL) in Vienna, I presented my paper, "Some Myths About Bias: A Queer Studies Reading Of Gender Bias In NLP" in their Proceedings of the 6th Workshop on Gender Bias in Natural Language Processing (GeBNLP). For this year's workshop, taking place at AACL-IJCNLP 2026, I am a reviewer. I plan to continue as both a reviewer and contributer to the workshop in future years.
